integrated workplace health services

Amy Williams is the OES General Manager for Nabenet and a qualified Occupational Therapist. Amy joined Nabenet in 2009 and has worked in occupational rehabilitation settings in Australia and the UK since 2005. She has worked as a Rehabilitation Consultant delivering services to clients with acute and chronic musculoskeletal, neurological and psychological conditions, prior to commencing in a Team Leader and Team Manager role within the OES team. Prior to working at Nabenet, Amy was employed by a Disability Income Protection Insurer in New Zealand for two years, providing case management services to assess and manage claims, and facilitate return to work services. Amy has a broad knowledge of the occupational rehabilitation and insurance industries, which enables her to develop strong professional relationships with insurers, injured workers, employers and treating health professionals to achieve optimal return to work outcomes.
