

Return to Work Education Series 2021

Achieving positive return to work outcomes with considerations for Covid-19 and the changing environment.

This presentation will address returning injured workers to safe and sustainable employment in the current environment. Nabenet will share information on the additional evidence-based tools and resources available to assist with positive return to work outcomes in challenging times.

Effective use of Job Task Analysis to return workers to work quickly, improve GP engagement and RTW outcomes

Returning a worker back to work quickly after a workplace injury improves the chance of a full recovery. Nabenet will share what should be included in a current day task analysis and how these can be used effectively with GPs. Organisations with detailed task analysis report improved return to work outcomes and GP engagement.
